

At the conclusion of the anniversary, the school had an extensive record of the school's history on site. An Honour Board displaying the names of all head teachers and principals was established.

As was the case for the 50th celebrations, many stories emerged about the school's history. Of interest at this anniversary was the return of the school's original brass key from the 1923 school room. Acknowledgment was given of the generosity and thoughtfulness of Mr David Pullin, son of former school committee chairman Mr Ron Pullin for returning the key to the school. It was anticipated that the original school house door could also be acquired.
